

Environment and Planning Assistant

Salary: circa £20,000

Portland Harbour Authority is located in Dorset on the South Coast of England and is looking to recruit an Environment and Planning Assistant.

Portland Harbour Authority is a thriving and growing commercial port with a significant land holding and jurisdictional powers in Portland Harbour and Weymouth Bay. The Port is used by all nature of vessels and the land estate provides a home to a diverse range of tenants providing maritime services. The energy industry will also see significant expansion locally. The area is popular for its beauty, wildlife, and watersports and will host the 2012 Olympic Games sailing events.

Reporting to the Environment and Planning Manager the successful candidate will be responsible for assisting in the overall and day to day control, supervision, management and undertaking of all environmental and planning activities associated with the operation and long term development of the Port.

Applicants should be educated to degree level in an environment, planning or GIS type discipline or equivalent. An environmental background and specific experience of town and country planning and GIS would be desirable. Candidates will also be IT literate with excellent communication and organisational skills and the ability to work independently or as part of a team.

This is an excellent opportunity for an applicant with a genuine passion for developing a successful career within the environmental and planning sector, to gain experience in both the land and marine environment, and across a number of sectors both regulatory and commercial, in a location which is one of the best in the country.
